

Summer Comfort

Women cannot always suit their own desires in footwear—some feet must be humored.

Tender feet compel many women to sacrifice some stunning styles—substituting lasts that are comfortably roomy—and leathers that are serviceably gentle.

The tannage of "Patrician" kid and calfskin is healthily adapted to the most sensitive foot—allowing one to wear shoes strictly correct in form with comfort.

"PATRICIAN" is wholly a woman's shoe—catering to the finer tastes—in its wear there's a latent charm you feel—but can not describe.

HORSE SHOW WEEK PROVES UNUSUALLY GAY

Many Attractive Social Events at the White Sulphur—Richmond Guests Entertain Friends.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., August 13.—The social season at White Sulphur Springs is going at such a pace now one has to be up and doing to keep in the running, but this is horse show week, when all the checks are taken off and everything goes. The social leaders are running neck and neck, and the question is which will get in the most hospitality; the competition is great, but all the more interesting for the grandstand.

As usual, the Richmond women are the prize-winners. In all events, of whatever character, they are always to the fore.

Mrs. Ross Perry and Mrs. Richard Goldsborough, of Washington, D. C., were hostesses to half a hundred of their friends this week at a delightful bridge whist party at the Casino. The prizes were all beautifully chosen articles of silver, which displayed exquisite taste in selection, and were won by Mrs. W. H. White, Mrs. Robert Macdaniel, Mrs. Houston, Mrs. Edmund Waddill, and Mrs. Withers, all of Richmond; Mrs. J. W. Riehart, Charleston, W. Va.; Mrs. Billups Phinizy, Athens, Ga.; and Mrs. Inman Sanders, of Mobile, Ala.

Mrs. Thomas Plineckney, of Richmond and Charleston, S. C., entertained delightfully at bridge at the Casino at a morning card party. On this occasion the very attractive prizes were won by Mrs. William Wheatley, Miss Jennie Mason Gibbs, and Mrs. Sanford Kellogg, all of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Spencer Carter, of Baltimore, and Mrs. Robert Powell, of Richmond.

Another large bridge party of thirteen tables was given at the Casino by Mrs. J. W. Riehart, of Charleston, W. Va., but well known to all habitués of the White Sulphur Springs, and included a great many Richmond guests. Among those winning prizes were Mrs. W. H. White, Mrs. Thomas Rutherford, Mrs. Elmo D. Hotchkiss, Jr., Mrs. R. M. Withers and Mrs. M. V. Turner, of Richmond; Mrs. T. E. Yulio, of New York; Mrs. George P. Willshire, New York; Mrs. R. P. Means, Birmingham, Ala.; Mrs. John D. Lewis; Mrs. Foster

Thomas, Louisville; Mrs. Richard Goldsborough, Washington; Mrs. Robert Mary, Baltimore; Mrs. Higgins, Norfolk.

The juniors gave a "tacky ball" on Monday night, which was one of the great successes of the season, the amusing and cleverly carried out costumes provoking roars of laughter. The committee found great difficulty in coming to a decision, but finally awarded the prizes to Miss Mary Cook Branch, of Richmond, and to Laurence W. J. of Cincinnati.

Mrs. T. H. Elliott, of Richmond, entertained at quite a handsome function in honor of her niece, Mrs. John A. Ball, of Tennessee. Beautiful prizes of cut-glass were awarded Mrs. Samuel N. Waddill and Mrs. E. T. Robinson, of Richmond, and Mrs. Julien Ogden, of Washington.

The annual golf tournament was played this week, there being a number of entries. Fine play marked the event, which resulted in J. F. Taylor, of North Carolina, winning the championship, which was won by the late some silver cup. Second place was tied for by R. Claiborne Hale and Spencer Carter, of Baltimore, which had to be played off, resulting in Mr. Carter's winning the cup.

The annual tennis tournament, which has been in progress all week, is not yet played off.

The committee on entertainment for the horse show festivities, which began the end of this week, are: McEwen Johnston, Thornton Lewis, John D. Lewis, Thomas E. Paine, H. G. Breckinridge, J. D. Thayer, Billups Phinizy, Frank Ross, Elmore Hotchkiss, Jr., John Middleton, C. W. Watts, John D. Potts, Fred. Pope, and Captain R. D. Hooker.

G. W. Stevens, president of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, who has just returned from a summer in Europe, arrived for the horse show.

The morning german was a grand success. The german was brilliantly led by Thomas B. Parle, of Atlanta, and J. D. Thayer, who introduced many suggestive horse show figures, driving four-in-hand and tandem, and as usual, the women holding the whip. The women patronesses included Mrs. Barton Grundy, Mrs. Thomas Rutherford, Mrs. J. D. Potts, Mrs. W. H. White, Mrs. M. Reese, Mrs. Foster Thomas, of Louisville; Mrs. J. W. Reinhart, of Charleston, W. Va.

ENJOYS ITS BEST SEASON.

"Alleghany Inn" Filled With Guests From Many Sections.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Goshen, Va., August 13.—The "Alleghany Inn" is having the most successful season of its history. The handsome stone structure, now complete in every appointment, situated upon a view of the valley and mountains, is conceded to be one of the most attractive of the Virginia resorts.

There are guests from all parts of the country, and the season is one of continuous enjoyment. There seems to be some form of pleasure to meet the wishes and demands of all—tennis, fishing, riding, driving and games of various kinds.

Of the card parties, one of the most enjoyable was that given by Mrs. M. J. Darden, of Newmarket, on Wednesday evening. The mahogany was used, and a unique feature of the decorations was the use and tasty arrangement of mountain shrubs and plants.

Good Times at Ocean View. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Ocean View, Va., August 13.—The crowd not only continued at Dicks cottage, Ocean View, but they continue to have a good time.

CONGENIAL COMPANY ENJOYS LIFE AT SPRINGS

Guests at Mount Elliott Resort Find Many Pleasures to Pass Away the Summer Hours.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Mount Elliott Springs, Va., August 13.—In the language of one of the guests, "the days are all too short to accomplish half of the pleasures planned." Even though many rise before sunrise to enjoy that beautiful sight from any of the commanding points around here, and stay up over an exciting game of cards until the wee small hours, still there are some sports which have to be dispensed with.

One of the chief pleasures at the present time is the horseback ride to the top of Elliott's Knob, and many who have not ridden horseback for years have caught the fever.

The women have formed a fancy work club and vie with each other in making beautiful articles.

One of the most amusing social features of the season was the tacky party, in which old and young participated, which was thoroughly enjoyed. The game of progressive euchre proved equally fascinating to the devotees of cards, and after playing for several hours a magnificent buffet lunch was served under the direction of the host.

The groups of frolicsome children on the lawn add charm to the place.

Richmond, Washington and Norfolk people are gathered here by the score, and the company is a most congenial one, and already plans are being made to meet here next summer.

ENJOY MANY PLEASURES AT CROCKETT SPRINGS

Puzzle and Book Parties Arranged for Young People—Hotel Filled.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Crockett Springs, Va., August 13.—This past week has been an unusual one, marked by gaieties and pleasures, and a rush of visitors and guests. The hotel is full, and the younger set has enjoyed, aside from the pastimes indulged in at all resorts, teas, puzzle and book parties.

A feature of the week was the book party given on Wednesday, which was given in its entirety. Many books were excellently delineated.

Prizes were offered for the best portrayal of titles, and the following were given to the following: Miss Hunt, of Atlanta, who chose as her book "The Little Widow." The garb, aside from being perfectly carried out, was most becoming. The second prize was given to Miss Nina Proctor, of New Orleans, who looked charming as "The Gypsy's Daughter." Paul Thomas was inimitable as "Uncle Remus," and received the first prize for men.

Walton Suddeth, of Fall Mills, as "The Little Minister," won the second prize. Miss Ethel Thomas gave a "puzzle party" to her guests, the Misses Barger, of Shaviesville, and Miss Buckner, of Roanoke. The attractive prizes were won by Miss Virginia Lynch, of Norfolk, and Carlton Thomas, of Roanoke.

Mrs. and Miss Thomas were hostesses at a beautiful afternoon tea given at their cottage in honor of Miss Sanders, of Salem. Invitations were sent to the younger set, and their sweet and pretty faces were fair rivals of the lovely flowers used as decorations in the rooms and upon the tea table.

Those who are fond of piscatorial pursuits have enjoyed good sport this week. One of the guests, who is a true disciple of Isaac Walton, being able to boast that he had caught twenty-eight trout in one school. He was not telling a "fish story," for he had them on his string when showing the result of his day's sport.

The annual minstrel show was given in the dining room Monday night. Many of the songs were well sung, and "clog" dancing was excellent.

LIVELY SOCIAL EVENTS AT THE HOT SPRINGS

Many Luncheons, Teas and Dinners on Calendar—Suffragist Club May Be Established.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Virginia Hot Springs, August 13.—Gossip at the various social functions of the week, both in the villa and hotel colonies, has concerned the passing of Belmont Park and woman's suffrage, which had little or no interest for the prominent society matrons living here until Miss Mary Johnston, the author, gave a talk on Thursday morning at the Casino.

Mr. Samuel H. Baker, Every one of prominence here was invited, and there is talk of establishing a suffragist club here, the members to be drawn from the villa colony and among permanent guests at the hotel.

Mrs. Edward S. Mumford, of Washington and Bethesda, who arrived here late in July, has purchased from Mrs. O. H. F. Belmont the estate known as Belmont Park, half-way between the Homestead and the old city gate, adjoining Gunton Lodge. Mrs. Mumford will have a bungalow built on the property at once and later will break ground for a handsome colonial mansion, which will be a permanent home.

The sale came as a sensation, as the plot, comprising 250 acres, sold for the ridiculously low price of $25,300.

The past ten days have been the gayest of the summer season in the villa colony, luncheons, dinners and teas, as well as bridge and poker parties, having been on the social calendar, which is already full for next week.

At Inglescott, where Mr. and Mrs. Fay Inglescott are the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Melville E. Ingalls, Mrs. Ingalls entertained at a rose luncheon on Monday afternoon, complimentary to Miss Gladys Ingalls and Miss Abbie Ingalls.

Mr. and Mrs. William Allen, of the latter formerly Miss Claribel Cary, of Kentucky, have arrived at the Homestead to remain throughout the fall season.

Mrs. Edgar A. Pole gave a tea at Ben Venue on Wednesday.

On Monday afternoon Dr. and Mrs. L. M. Cowardin, of Richmond, entertained at a musicale and tea at the Terraces for a large company.

Mrs. Hugh Wright, of Richmond, was the hostess at a bowling party at the Casino at the Healing Springs on Wednesday for a large company.

Colonel and Mrs. James Pleasant, of Woodstock, entertained at one of the prettiest teas of the season at the Casino during the week.

open her villa for the fall season. Mr. Axtell is expected to-night on a private car.

Mrs. Edgar Bright entertained one of the largest and smartest tea parties of the season this week at Bright Villa. The Misses Eleanor Bright and Katherine Ingalls assisted Mrs. Melville E. Ingalls and Mrs. George Cole Scott in the tea room, while Mrs. David Dunlop presided over the punch bowl on the piazza. Among those invited were Mr. and Mrs. George Mason Gibson, the Misses Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. George Gunton, Judge and Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Charles Dickson, Dr. E. C. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Stedman, Dr. and Mrs. Edgar A. Pole, Miss Ada Leeds, Mr. and Mrs. John Hayes Caperton, Mrs. Frederick Sterry, Mrs. Albert Baldwin, Miss Baldwin, Dr. and Mrs. L. M. Cowardin, Dr. R. A. Black, Rear-Admiral and Mrs. William C. Buehler, Colonel and Mrs. Edward Colston, Miss Judith Colston, Mrs. Deatur Axtell, Mr. and Mrs. William Allen, Archibald, M. McCrea, E. T. Hickey and Mrs. Robert Ralston.

Mrs. George Gunton gave a luncheon yesterday afternoon at Gunton Lodge complimentary to Carman R. Runyon. Later the party went on horseback over the new trail to Little Switzerland.

The ball-room of the Homestead was crowded on Monday evening, when Burr McIntosh gave an entertainment entitled "A Midsummer Night's Dream," for the benefit of St. Luke's Episcopal Church. Among the patrons and patronesses were Justice and Mrs. Horace Lorton, General and Mrs. William Ruffin Cox, Mrs. Audenreid, Mrs. Charles Mail, Mrs. Benjamin Chew Tighman, Dr. and Mrs. Guy Fairfax Whiting, Mr. and Mrs. Melville E. Ingalls, Mrs. David Dunlop, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Bright, Mrs. H. Morris Johnston, Colonel and Mrs. Colston, Mrs. James S. Ingalls, Mrs. E. S. Matthews, Major W. Stuart Symington, Dr. Delaon Fitzgerald, Miss Mary Bell Perkins, Archibald, M. McCrea, Judge Robert Ralston, and J. B. Concanon, of London and Ireland.

Mr. and Mrs. Meredith Montague and Miss Emily Montague, who drove from their estate in Bath to spend the week-end at the Homestead, were joined by Mr. and Mrs. William Allen.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius S. Walsh, Jr., the latter formerly Miss Claribel Cary, of Kentucky, have arrived at the Homestead to remain throughout the fall season.

Mrs. Edgar A. Pole gave a tea at Ben Venue on Wednesday.

On Monday afternoon Dr. and Mrs. L. M. Cowardin, of Richmond, entertained at a musicale and tea at the Terraces for a large company.

Mrs. Hugh Wright, of Richmond, was the hostess at a bowling party at the Casino at the Healing Springs on Wednesday for a large company.

Colonel and Mrs. James Pleasant, of Woodstock, entertained at one of the prettiest teas of the season at the Casino during the week.

Mrs. Frances Scott and Miss Effie Branch are house guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Cole Scott at Fern Villa, where Mrs. Scott has given several attractive teas and a luncheon during the week.

Mrs. Guy Fairfax Whiting is awaiting the return of Dr. Whiting and the Misses Whiting at Barton Lodge. Dr. Whiting, who took a cottage at the White Sulphur for Horse Show week, and exhibited some of his horses, carried off a number of blue ribbons.

Mrs. Deatur Axtell will shortly re-
